

SSP Staffing

SSP has been a leading provider of transformative IT solutions and services for over 35 years. In addition to our extensive solution offerings, SSP is proud to leverage our high-level IT staff augmentation and consultation services.

We have the ability to recruit and connect you with contractors and consultants possessing expertise across the spectrum of IT operations, such as networking, cybersecurity, application development, software development, and more. SSP also has significant experience in providing services to companies that are aligned with different industry verticals, and as such have a unique understanding of the security threats facing a wide variety of organizations, including the challenges that your own company may face. Please see the chart below for more details.

Additionally, we are exceptionally proactive in our approach towards cybersecurity augmentation services. The combination of our unique insight — honed from years of hands-on experience — with the expertise of our contractors and consultants — who have extensive exposure to the vast number of tools and techniques used to target vulnerabilities — will tighten your application, network, and database security and guarantee peace-of-mind.

We're excited to leverage the flexibility, scalability, expertise, and efficiency that our IT staff augmentation services provide to take your business to the next level.
